Ivy Rehab opens its 55th location in Bloomington, IL

Bloomington, IL, 5/9/17 – Ivy Rehab’s 55th physical therapy clinic is now open in Bloomington, IL. The clinic is conveniently located in the Best Buy shopping plaza next to Jewel-Osco at 2103 Veterans Parkway, Suite 332, Bloomington, IL 61704. The newest Ivy Rehab clinic will be open Monday – Friday from 7am – 7pm.

"Bloomington-Normal is a really just a big small town and I'm fortunate that so many people here have chosen me as their personal physical therapist," said Josh Smith, Clinic Director. "My patients have become my best referral source and I often end up treating multiple people from the same family, running group, or office. Opening this new clinic allows me to provide the best care possible for even more of our Bloomington neighbors."

Ivy Rehab in Bloomington will offer treatments such as physical therapy, soft tissue mobilization, dry needling, orthopedic therapy, and post-surgical treatment. Special programs will also be offered including:

- ACL Rehab and Return-to-Sport Program
- Athletic Training
- Running Analysis Program
- Sports Injury Screenings
- Total Joint Replacement Program
- Workers' Compensation Program

"As with all Ivy Rehab clinics, complimentary injury screenings are also available at our new Bloomington location," said Dave Franklin, President of Midwest Operations. "Our team is local to this community and couldn't be more excited to provide Ivy Rehab's brand of exceptional care to Bloomington residents."

With backing from private equity firm Waud Capital Partners, Ivy Rehab will continue to open additional clinics in 2017 and further expand its footprint in the Northeast and Midwest regions of the United States.
